INVICTUS

By William Ernest Hensley

Out of the night that covers me,
Black as the pit from pole to pole,
I thank whatever gods may be
For my unconquerable soul.

In the fell clutch of circumstance
I have not winced nor cried aloud.
Under the bludgeonings of chance
My head is bloody, but unbowed.

Beyond this place of wrath and tears
Looms but the Horror of the shade,
And yet the menace of the years
Finds and shall find me unafraid.

It matters not how strait the gate,
How charged with punishments the scroll,
I am the master of my fate,
I am the captain of my soul.

OBITUARY

With profound sadness, yet hearts filled with gratitude for a life beautifully lived, we celebrate the life and legacy of Jeremiah Hunter II, who peacefully entered eternal rest on July 31, 2026, at the age of 53.

Born on May 19, 1973, to Jeremiah Hunter Sr. and Natalie Hunter, Jeremiah was a man whose life reflected faith, integrity, compassion, and servant leadership. He possessed a quiet strength, a generous spirit, and an infectious smile that made everyone feel welcome. Whether among family, friends, fraternity brothers, or colleagues, Jeremiah's presence brought comfort, laughter, and encouragement.

Jeremiah was preceded in death by his beloved father, Jeremiah Hunter Sr, who passed away on March 11, 2023, and his cherished sister, Quintina Hunter, who passed away on December 7, 2005. While their absence was deeply felt, we find peace knowing they have been joyfully reunited in the presence of the Lord.

Jeremiah was a proud graduate of Roger Bacon High School in Cincinnati, Ohio, where he developed lifelong friendships and the values of discipline, teamwork, and perseverance that would guide him throughout his life. He continued his education at Thomas More University, earning a Bachelor of Arts in Business Administration with concentrations in Marketing/Marketing Management and Information Technology. While at Thomas More, Jeremiah proudly played Saints football, demonstrating determination, resilience, and leadership both on and off the field.

In 1999, Jeremiah became a member of the Beta Iota Graduate Chapter of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Incorporated in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Throughout the years, he faithfully served in numerous leadership roles, including Basileus (President), Vice Basileus, and Fundraising Chairman. He dedicated countless hours to mentoring young people, supporting educational initiatives, organizing community programs, and strengthening the bond of brotherhood. Jeremiah truly embodied Omega Psi Phi's Cardinal Principles of Manhood, Scholarship, Perseverance, and Uplift, leaving a lasting legacy that will continue to inspire generations.

Professionally, Jeremiah enjoyed a successful career as an IT Project Manager, where he was respected for his integrity, professionalism, and collaborative leadership.

On March 31, 2007, Jeremiah married the love of his life, Linda Hunter. Their marriage was rooted in faith, friendship, mutual respect, and unconditional love. Together they built a home filled with warmth, laughter, compassion, and countless cherished memories.

When Jeremiah married Linda, he also wholeheartedly embraced her sons, Bryan and Brandon Maxberry. What began as a new chapter quickly became a lifelong bond built on love, guidance, encouragement, and unwavering support.

One of Jeremiah's greatest joys in life was becoming "PawPaw". His four beloved grandchildren were the light of his life. Whether celebrating birthdays, sharing family dinners, enjoying "Saturday Fun Days," attending special events, or simply spending time together, he cherished every moment with them. To know Jeremiah was to know genuine kindness, a playful wit, and a laugh that could brighten any room. Family will forever remember his playful banter, while friends admired his wisdom, humility, and dependable nature.

He listened without judgment, gave without expecting anything in return, and celebrated the accomplishments of others with sincere joy. He had a remarkable ability to make everyone feel valued, heard, and loved.

Music was one of Jeremiah's greatest passions. Known as DJ NightTrain, he loved using music to bring people together and create unforgettable memories. His love for music reflected his love for people—it brought joy, connected generations, and created an atmosphere where everyone felt welcome. Those who knew DJ NightTrain will forever remember not only the music he played, but the happiness and fellowship he inspired wherever he went.

Jeremiah's life was measured not by the titles he held or the accolades he received, but by the countless lives he touched. He leaves to cherish his precious memory his beloved wife, Linda Hunter; his loving mother, Natalie Hunter of Birmingham, Alabama; his devoted children, Bryan and Adoria Maxberry and Brandon Maxberry; his cherished grandchildren, Addison, Bryan, Charlie and Elias; his brothers of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Incorporated; and a host of aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews, cousins, extended family members in Alabama, dear friends, colleagues, and countless others whose lives were forever enriched by his presence.

Though our hearts are broken, we rejoice in knowing that Jeremiah's faith has become sight. His race has been run, his work on earth is complete, and he now rests peacefully in the presence of his Savior.

"Well done, good and faithful servant... Enter into the joy of your Lord." ~ Matthew 25:23

Forever Loved. Forever Remembered. Forever Missed.
